Growing
Together

A gardening program
for adults

Do you like to...

- see things grow?
- work with your hands?
- be able to eat vegetables from your own garden?
- go places to see what others have grown?

Growing Together is the place for you!

Growing Together is an adult day program that will focus on helping people become successful gardeners. The participating gardeners will get experience starting vegetables, flowers, and herbs from seed in a greenhouse. They will also gain experience with these same plants and many others in outdoor gardens.

Gardeners will have an opportunity to sell their vegetables and flowers to people in the community. They will also observe how other gardeners and farmers are doing this by visiting various farms and gardens around Sonoma County and the North Bay.

Gardeners will also get the opportunity to work with some farm animals and understand the care and maintenance of animals such as chickens, sheep, and miniature donkeys.

Growing Together gardeners will be involved in activities such as:

- Greenhouse gardening
- Outdoor gardening
- Animal care
- Visiting local farmer's markets
- Visiting local farms
- Learning to cook with produce from the garden
- Learning how to garden through video teaching
- Visiting professional gardens such as San Francisco Botanical Gardens, Luther Burbank Gardens, Kendall Jackson Gardens, and several others.
